VS

Rigid and inflexible pricing model with multi-year contracts.

A well recognized brand in SMB segment.

Pioneer and market leader in Cloud computing.

Privately held company that was bootstrapped, financially stable and profitable.

Public company with good financial stability.

Strongly integrated Zoho built productivity applications which increase the product scope.

With respect to broader business suites, Salesforce has acquired companies or uses integrations with third party App Exchange vendors.

Invests money and talent in product development and customer support which rivals most major players in the industry.

Invests heavily on acquisitions to grow their product suite.

Relies on inbound sales reduces the Marketing and Sales costs which reflects positively on the pricing.

Invests heavily in Marketing and Sales efforts to increase the market share YoY which also affects the price of the product.

salesforce

Online community addresses customer issues, but 24/7 phone support worldwide is available only at a extra cost.

Complicated and lacks flexibility as for a small and medium business.

Customization and integration come at an additional cost through the SF Marketplace, making it very expensive for small business to have extensive customization.

All add-ons come at additional costs making it even more expensive regardless of the edition. For instance, Mobile access is available at an additional $50/user/month and offline access at $25/user/month.

VS

1 GB data is available per organization plus each license receives 512 MB to 1 GB of individual storage. (Amount depending on edition.) Additional storage is available at $4/month for each additional 5GB of data.

11 GB of data is available in all editions to be shared by all users. Additional storage is available at $250/ month for each 1GB of data.

As a Zoho CRM customer, you get to choose where you want your data to be hosted. Select from state-of-the-art data centers in the US and EU. 99.9% uptime SLA .

With only leased data centers and no data center in Europe, there are security concerns.

Customers can reach you in many ways - calls, emails, chat messages, social media. But are your sales reps equipped to engage across multiple channels? Zoho CRM ensures you keep track of all customer activities by displaying them in an organized timeline via SalesSignals.

Notifications options let customers know when certain events occur in Salesforce via two modes: In-app notifications, Push notifications.

“ Switching to Zoho CRM made us more efficient at a much lower cost. They offered an improved interface and usability experience compared to Salesforce. Most importantly, the transition process was entirely painless and took only about 72 hours. ”
